SUMMARY

Senior product designer at Samsung with a product management background: five years designing and running purchase experiences for Galaxy devices on Samsung.com and the Shop App. Known for tying every design decision to conversion data, and for moving from writing requirements to designing the experiences myself.

EXPERIENCE

Senior UX Designer | Samsung Electronics Sep 2023 – Present

- Lead UX design for Samsung's flagship phone buy pages, a $875M+ product line, across 13 launches including Galaxy S23–S26, Z Fold5–8, Z Flip5–8, and Galaxy XR.
- Redesigned the Galaxy Watch8 buy flow's configuration step using heuristic evaluation, site analytics, and NPS analysis, lifting conversion 27% and cutting band-selection drop-off 42% in the first 30 days.
- Designed the Galaxy XR purchase journey, from buy page through demo booking, for Samsung's first Android XR headset; settled the layout debate with an A/B test that lifted gallery-to-checkout 49% and click-through 13%, and shipped the winning page on launch day.
- Partner with UX researchers to test wireframes and prototypes, including a 30-participant usability study of the Galaxy XR flow, and turn findings and customer data into changes that remove purchase friction.

Product Manager | Samsung Electronics Sep 2021 – Aug 2023

- Led go-to-market and buy page strategy for the Galaxy S22, Z Fold4, Z Flip4, and Galaxy Watch5 launches, aligning design, engineering, and marketing from planning through launch.
- Doubled Shop App revenue year over year and lifted conversion 50% by redesigning navigation, product pages, and the checkout flow.
- Launched Samsung's first AI-powered recommendation engine, raising conversion 30%, and increased push notification conversion 50% with personalized, automated in-app messaging.

Product Intern | Samsung Electronics May 2021 – Aug 2021

- Designed product comparison, navigation, and personalization features for the Samsung Shop App.
- Won first place in an intern competition with a Gen Z campaign converting iPhone users to Galaxy Z Flip.
